

20 Of The Best Brunch Spots Across America

The Editors | April 28, 2021 | Food & Drink

A shared plate of French toast, endless mimosas and so much coffee. This is what great brunch is made of. It's not a meal you rush, but rather a two hour-plus experience that gathers friends and family over a table for laughs and bloody marys.

It's our favorite meal of the week, so we asked our editors across the country to name the best brunch spots in their cities. Here, we gather a name from each, so you can enjoy top-tier brunch no matter where life takes you.

ORANGE COUNTY - MARCHE MODERNE

Come hungry: Beloved French bistro Marché Moderne is infamous for its Sunday brunch (11am-2pm)—and there's good reason. Full of decadent delights, you can't go wrong with any of the husband-and-wife chef duo's creations, ranging from the savory—see the potato crisp with smoked salmon or the deviled eggs four ways (the black and white truffle scented is a must-order)—to the sweet—don't miss the Everything Coconut brioche French toast with coco-mango gelato. Chef-owner Florent Marneau and his wife, Amelia, the brilliant pastry chef who's whipping up memorable croissants and heavenly blueberry clafoutis brulée (complete with the maple syrup ice cream of your dreams), continue to outdo themselves.
